No agent of Licensor is authorized to make any other warranties or to modify this limited warranty. Licensee's jurisdiction may not allow such a limitation of damages, so this limitation may not apply.

A) Yes, it is an open-source software.

2) How can I use your source code? Can I freely copy it into my own applications, or do I have to link to your binary? If I use your code in my own application, is there a limit to how much of your code I can use? Do I have to include your license or attribution header at the top of any source files I redistribute that contain your code, or in the Help/About box of my binary?

A) Yes, the source code is available on GitHub, by the name PlagoD. You can, or may, use the source code partially, or in the whole, but you are requested to include the license or attribution header at the top of the files.

No, you cannot resell it, either for commercial purposes, or otherwise.
